Membership in the Motor City Theatre Organ Society

The Motor City Theatre Organ Society (MCTOS) is a group of organ enthusiasts affiliated with the American Theatre Organ Society (ATOS), who maintain and continue to restore the Redford Theatre, a 96-year-old building with a beautiful voiced Barton Theatre Pipe Organ in its original setting. The Theatre has been recognized as an historical site by both the State and Federal governments. Gifts to the MCTOS are tax deductible.

We are not all organists, and we don't all own home organs. Some of us see the theatre as a marvelous opportunity to save a unique atmospheric theatre. We are restoring it to a working theatre as near to its 1928 state as possible, while at the same time keeping stage, lighting, film, and sound equipment up to the changing standards of today's technology.

OUR THEATRE IS OPERATED BY MEMBER VOLUNTEERS; WE HAVE NO EMPLOYEES

The Theatre requires many working members, though you may see only a fraction of the membership during an event. The very wide range of ages (teens to eighties) shows there is something here to interest almost everyone. There is something for all talents, whether physically limited, elderly, inexperienced, professional or tinkerer.

We welcome new members who join to support our venture, play the organ, be working members and contribute time, encouragement and assist in the many projects necessary to raise funds, maintain the building, and present our shows to the public.

Theatre Organ Concerts and Silent Film presentations are the fun events of our Society. They occur multiple times a year and feature the finest artists. These concerts represent our commitment to presenting the theatre pipe organ as it has evolved from the 1920s right up to the present.

We show a variety of movies, normally every other Friday and Saturday, to help fund the cost of renovations and building maintenance.

Other crews operate the concession counter, stage, ticket booth, projection equipment, provide building security, and plan future shows. Member volunteers work on crafts: carpentry, electrical, air conditioning and heating, building restoration, and more. There is always something needing attention.

The Theatre is available to rent when we are not presenting our own shows. Our all volunteer staff will provide whatever support is necessary.

MEMBER PRIVILEGES—CLUB FUNCTIONS

There are two levels of yearly renewable membership for our members. Basic "Associate of the Redford" ($25) and ATOS membership (additional $50) which entitles you to voting and office holding at the Chapter/National level. Family memberships include spouse/significant other and minor children. Following shows or activities, groups of members often stop off at a convenient restaurant for snacks before heading home.

Our newsletter, THE BLOWER, keeps you informed of club activities. The beautiful Theatre Organ Journal of ATOS keeps you informed about theatre organ activities all over the country and the world.

The national organization, of which we are a participating chapter, sponsors an annual world convention every summer, hosted by a local chapter. We hosted the convention here in Detroit in 1967, 1974, 1982, 1989 and 1995. Smaller regional conventions are also held, usually in the fall, by local chapters.

For member organists (amateurs or professional), the organ is available for practice.

We welcome the opportunity to discuss what we do, have done, and hope to do. Talk to anyone you see wearing an MCTOS badge at the Theatre during any of our events.
